Wellington, Fl – Suzanne Dansby-Phelps and her amazing Grand Prix partner, Cooper were in the zone for the 2007 Zada Cup USEF High Performance Qualifier two weeks ago in Orlando. The judges rewarded the pair's winning Grand Prix Special ride with a whooping 69.067%. In the USEF FEI Grand Prix, Dansby-Phelps enjoyed dual wins. She and Cooper won the class with a convincing score of 67.292% . Second place also went to Dansby-Phelps, this time riding her other Grand Prix partner, Goubergh's Kasper to a score of 64.792%. Kasper and Dansby Phelps also stayed in the zone and won the Grand Prix Freestyle with a 67.417%.

The show ended with Suzanne Dansby-Phelps and Cooper gracefully taking a well deserved victory lap sporting the Zada Cup Championship cooler. "It was a great show", said Dansby-Phelps, "Both horses gave me consistent and accurate rides." After the winning weekend, Dansby-Phelps was looking forward to the PhelpsSports.com Palm Beach Dressage Derby in Loxahatchee. She had the Zada
